
6.0 Other Hanford Site Environmental Programs

At the Hanford Site, a variety of environmental activities are performed to comply with laws and regulations, to enhance environmental quality, and to monitor the impact of environmental pollutants from site operations.

This section summarizes activities conducted in 1996 to monitor the meteorology and climatology of the site, to assess the status of the Hanford ecosystem, to monitor Hanford cultural resources, and to actively involve the public in surveillance activities near the site.