The informative value of the information to be disclosed:

Disclosure of the information described will help the general public understand the way government agencies are implementing government programs.

Contribution to an understanding by the general public: EECAP has a long history of both disseminating this information. This is also shown by DOE having a long history of providing information to EECAP without charge because of our mission to help EEOICPA claimants. EECAP disseminates through national news organizations, blog entries, email, newsletters and other means.

The significance of the contribution to public understanding:

Disclosure of this information will contribute significantly to public understanding of government operations or activities because will show information on how DOL is administering a federal program, EEOICPA.

The existence and magnitude of a commercial interest:

Neither I, nor the Energy Employee Claimant Assistance Project,

have any commercial interest in this material.

The primary interest in disclosure:

Neither I, nor the Energy Employee Claimant Assistance Project,

have any commercial interest in this material.

--Expedited processing--
