

Emergency Operations Center looking for a few 'cool heads'

Hanford's Emergency Operations Center, or EOC, is currently seeking volunteers to serve in various positions during activations of the center. The center is activated when a site emergency is declared or when one is threatening, and for drills and exercises throughout the year.

Among the talents needed to join the EOC team are the ability to focus during a crisis, work on multiple tasks, be flexible, be willing to help and — above all — be a team player.

The center has specific and urgent needs for computer operators, administrative personnel and people skilled in public communication. Serving as an EOC volunteer requires carrying a pager and the approval of your immediate manager.

To find out more about serving in the EOC, or to volunteer, send an e-mail message to ^Hanford EOC, or call Shelia Woody at 376-2292 or Sandy Bauer at 376-0185. ♦
