

National Management Association honors youth

The National Management Association recognized young people from throughout the Tri-Cities area for scholarship and achievement during the Hanford Chapter's annual high school and college awards ceremony. Various scouts, citizens, entrepre-neurs and students received plaques, certificates and savings bonds. A few are pictured here.

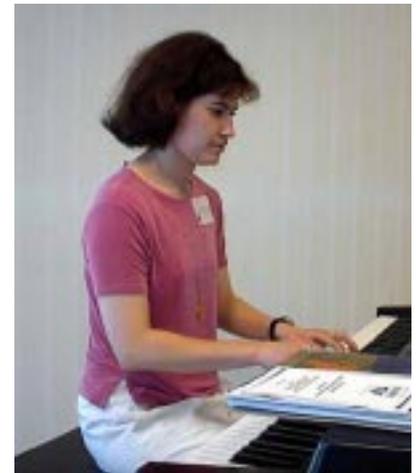

The awards were presented on May 24. ♦

Sana Zuberi of Richland High, recognized as the Young Woman Entrepreneur of the Year, also delivered her speech that had won the NMA chapter and council competitions.

Shane Gulley, left, of Hanford High and Joseph Linehan of Kiona-Benton High were presented Young Man Citizen of the Year recognition by Benton County Commissioner Claude Oliver.

The Young Woman WSU Tri-Cities Community Service Student of the Year, Zontziry Pritchett, also provided prelude and intermission entertainment.
