HOSTING THE GOVERNOR: Fluor Hanford Acting President Dave Van Leuven (left) leads Washington Governor Gary Locke on a Feb. 14 tour of the K West Basin, pointing out manual process equipment that was new last summer. At right is Bob Heck, vice president of the Spent Nuclear Fuel Project. The governor also visited the tank farms and the historic B Reactor, and spoke to a local audience in the Federal Building Auditorium. Gov. Locke said he wants to meet with Energy Secretary Spencer Abraham and members of Congress to argue for adequate spending for Hanford cleanup.
