

THE HANFORD SITE

All Hanford Site Employees:

SUBJECT: CURRENT HANFORD SITE POSTURE OF ESSENTIAL MISSION CRITICAL OPERATIONS CONTINUES NEXT WEEK

As we move toward the close of our fourth week in an essential mission-critical operations posture at the Hanford Site, my appreciation goes out again to all of you. We continue to make progress in our Hanford Site mission through remote work, while some of our teammates report on Site to support and maintain safe conditions there.

For the week of April 20, the site posture will remain in the current state of essential mission-critical operations, with some limited planning activities to also be conducted. Each week we will continue to evaluate the multiple factors under consideration that will lead to a decision to begin a phased, structured, and methodical process toward resuming full site operations when conditions support.

While we continue to make progress in our important mission, we will continue to work together in the fight against COVID-19, so I ask that you all continue to focus on maintaining the safety recommendations and guidelines while at home, at work, when in the community, and when it is necessary.

Please continue to monitor the Hanford mobile app and the Hanford website for updates.

Brian T. Vance

Manager

Richland Operations / Office of River Protection

