or speak on behalf of the Department of Energy or its contractors.

Our mission

The Hanford Workforce Engagement Center is a premier service center staffed with experienced representatives equipped to help current and former Hanford employees and their families who have questions or concerns about occupational health issues.

It can be difficult to navigate the many processes and programs that are available when you have an occupational health concern. We can help you make the right connections and identify where to obtain the information you need. We're here to help educate and get you on the right track if you encounter an issue with a claim or process. We know who to call.

Your source for finding answers

We are dedicated to providing experience and solutions to help Hanford workers who were injured or became ill on the job.

Hanford Workforce Engagement Center

We can help with claims or questions related to the following programs:

- ▶ Beryllium sensitization or Chronic Beryllium Disease
- ▶ State of Washington Workers' Compensation Program
- ▶ DOE's third party administration for the Worker's Compensation Program
- ▶ Energy Employees Occupational Illness Compensation Program Act (EEOICPA)
- ▶ Former workers medical screening
- ▶ Hanford contractor specific programs

Workers Helping Workers

Our trained staff have extensive backgrounds working at Hanford in both union and non-union positions.

We know the environment and are able to help you connect with the right organization. Through our extensive networks, we'll be able to help find the right group for you.

We're a collaboration focused on you.
